GENEALOGIST'S DISEASE

WARNING: Genealogy Pox (very Contagious to adults)

SYMPTOMS: Continual complaint as to need for names, dates and places. Patient has a blank expression sometimes deaf to spouse and children. Has no taste for work of any kind, except feverishly looking through records at libraries and courthouses. Has compulsion to write letters. Swears at mailman when he doesn't leave mail. Frequents strange places such as cemeteries, ruins, and remote desolate country areas. Makes secret night calls, hides phone bills from spouse and mumbles to self. Has strange, faraway look in eyes.

NO KNOWN CURE

TREATMENT: Medication is useless. Disease is not fatal, but gets progressively worse. Patient should attend genealogy workshops, subscribe to genealogical magazines and be given a quiet corner of the house where he or she can be alone.

REMARKS: The unusual nature of this disease is the sicker the patient gets, the more he or she enjoys it!

Taken from THE GENEALOGICAL HELPER (September/October 1980)

SURNAME FILE

The Moore-Pioneer Genealogical Society has a surname file and you can help others, as well as yourself by filling out a card on each member of your family tree. The card size in 5" X 8".

Information needed, on each card, is name of person you are researching, birth, marriage, and death dates and places. Name of Spouse, name of Parents and your name and address and current date.

It has been suggested, since the size of the card is so large, to use the bottom part of the card to list children, other marriages and/or other information that might be helpful to others.

Your help is needed in this, so bring your cards to the next meeting so we can get them filed.

PRESERVING OLD PHOTOGRAPHS

Our last meeting was held September 16, at the Moore Public Library. Our Speaker was Glennis Horn, who copies old photographs. She gave a very interesting talk on the history of photography and how she can preserve your precious, old photographs.

If any of you local researchers are wanting to get copies of your photos and don't want to turn loose of them long enough to have a studio do them Glennis has the equipment to photograph other photos of any size. This will be done while you wait, then you take the exposed roll of film and your originals with you.

Phone for more information and/or an appointment: Glennis Horn, 732-7702, 1321 Parkwood Court, Midwest City, OK 73110.

ENTERING THE FAIR by Myra Manley

I would like to share with you a way I discovered to help you get your genealogy organized -- enter it in the State Fair. This will not only help you get organized but will show you where you need the most work.

I had wanted to enter my work last year, but started too late to get everything ready in time. If you are like me you have your information scattered out in more than one place. The first step, for me, was to get everything together and see what I had. I was surprised at the information I had that I had forgotten because it was not documented. I learned from this how important it is to write everything you get down for future use. After getting everything together I started re-typing my charts and worksheets and getting copies of documents and pictures that I wanted to include.

It took quite a lot of time to get everything completed and ready for the fair, but I made it. I entered my work in Most Complete Genealogy. I am not sure if this was the correct class, but decided I would not know unless I tried it. It was not until after the Fair was over and I went to pick up my work that I discovered I had placed 4th. (Of course ribbons and recognition was only given for the first 3 places, but I was happy anyway). More important than finding out I had placed 4th-- I was able to look at the Judges critique. This helped me see what I had to work on, and I must say they were right. Now I know what I need to do so I can enter my work again next year.

Let's make Genealogy a bigger section at the Fair next year!!!

NOTE TO REMEMBER

When writing for information on your family history, don't forget to include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. This will make it easier for the person to reply. It will not always guarantee a reply, but what could it hurt?

The same holds true when you receive an inquiry -- answer it even if you don't have the exact information they are seeking. It might open a door for you later on in your research. People will remember you easier if you answer their inquiry.
