JUNE BUSINESS MEETING

Members, please plan to attend the CCGS Annual Business Meeting. Your fellow members, who will be representing you and leading the society for the coming year, need your encouragement and support. You will learn more about the activities of your local genealogical society.

This meeting begins at 6:30 p.m. in the CCGS Library, 1119 East Main Street in the Community Services Building. Enter at the South entrance; the Genealogy Library is just inside.

As usual, we inject a social atmosphere by bringing food to share during the meeting.

The agenda for our annual business meeting includes adoption of a budget for 2018-2019, presentation of officer and committee reports, and election and installation of new officers to lead the society during the coming year.

The nominating committee, composed of Mae Cox, Sarah Pool, and Pam Randorff, reports these future officers:

President:	Jean McCracken
1st Vice President:	Nova Hornback
2nd Vice President:	Sarah Pool
Secretary:	Jane Harris
Treasurer:	Mike McCurtain
Members-at-Large:	Marilyn Henry Betty Hall Joyce Carle
Past President	Frank Appl

Ancestry.com Workshops

If you have an active Ancestry.com account and feel you are not getting your money's worth, you would no doubt benefit from the two-part program being offered this summer at Norman Central Library.

Genealogy librarian Kathryn Ramsey will present Ancestry.com—Getting Your Money's Worth. Part 1 is Wednesday, June 13, 2018, and Part 2 is Wednesday, July 18. Both sessions meet at 2:00 p.m. in the Computer Training Center at Norman Central Library.

Where in the World is Alpha Hurst?

BY JANE HURST MCPHAIL HARRIS

My maternal grandfather, Albert Byler Hurst, never said much about his side of the family. In fact, when my younger sister, Joan, asked him one time what nationality we were, he replied "We're part horse thief."

I knew that his parents had both died fairly young and that he and his brother, Ira, had moved to Bazine, Ness County, Kansas by 1910 and lived with the Nels Olsen family. Albert and Ira lost touch with another brother, Edgar "Ed" Hurst. Apparently, they did keep in touch with their sister, Alpha Hurst. Eventually, they found Ed Hurst in Colorado and were able to reconnect.

I asked two of my aunts about Alpha and neither one knew much about her except that she had married a man by the name of Smith. "Great!" I thought. "Finding her may be impossible."

I have a subscription to newspapers.com. Sometimes I will randomly put in family names to see what I can find about them.

I typed in Alpha Hurst and found an article in the McPherson (Kansas) Weekly Republican dated Friday, 6 Nov 1903 which stated "Miss Alpha Hurst of Lindsborg is staying with Mrs. Capt. Robinson." The name and place where she lived indicated to me that this could be my missing Alpha.

Continuing to search, I found an article dated 26 Feb 1904, also in the McPherson Weekly Republican that stated "Alpha Hurst received a telegram last Friday evening stating that her father had died at Ft. Scott. She left on the first train for that place to attend the funeral." I immediately checked the death date for her father, George Washington Hurst, which was Thursday, 18 Feb 1904. I had found my great aunt Alpha!

Additional searching produced an article in The Salina Daily Union (Salina, Kansas) dated Tuesday, 2 Nov 1909. "R. O. Smith, employed at the E. J. Kaffer grocery store, was married at McPherson Monday to Miss Alpha Hurst, a handsome girl of that city. They have returned to Salina and have already gone to housekeeping at No. 902 Gypsum avenue." Now I not only have proof that Alpha did indeed marry a Smith but I have her wedding date and her place of marriage.

Alpha O. Hurst Smith died in 1930 and is buried in Roselawn Memorial Park Cemetery, Salina, Saline County, Kansas.

There are times that I don't find anything when I search a name on newspapers.com. That doesn't discourage me; I keep on searching.

How else would I have found out that a great uncle discovered a rare yellow morning glory in Texas?

But that is another story!

Yellow Morning Glory

BY JANE HURST MCPHAIL HARRIS

My cousin, Fran McPhail Ryan, texted me:
Name of uncle in Austin who was a florist?

Another round of genealogical trivia was beginning. I immediately texted back: Truman and Naomi McPhail, who owned Airport Florists in Austin, Texas.

But Truman was our fathers' cousin, not his uncle. Then I remembered the story about McPhail Florists, and I had to dig deep in my memory for clues. One of our fathers' female cousins was a florist. I seemed to remember that her shop was further south in Texas, maybe around Beaumont.

My curiosity was piqued!

I searched newspapers.com for McPhail Florist and found the name Virgil McPhail, who was our grandfather's brother. Searching for Virgil yielded an ad in the Austin American, 9 Oct 1926, for the Hokey-Pokey, a grocery store that listed Virgil McPhail as the Proprietor.

"Babe Ruth knocked three home runs in one game but he hasn't anything on us. We knocked several at one hit when we located our store in the heart of the City Market in the seven hundred block on East Sixth Street. We have the cleanest, newest and one of the largest stocks of staple and fancy groceries in the city and our prices are right. Look these prices over and come see us. Sugar, 15 lbs., $1.00. Crisco, 3 lb. can, 65 cents. Head Lettuce, 9 cents. Why worry about parking space and time limits. Come shop with us and take your time. Open evenings till nine o'clock. Checks accepted."

McPhail's Sunken Gardens appeared to be the place to have parties. A party was held in honor of a thirteen-year old girl. Virgil and another man were in charge of the program which, according to the Austin American, 3 July 1933, took the form of a radio broadcast.

Virgil's daughter, Ruth McPhail, was one of the attendees.

The Austin American, 15 Oct 1933, shows Virgil as the owner of McPhail's Wayside Gardens on Barton Springs Road, Austin, Texas. He speaks about sweet pea planting time in Texas and how the depth of planting is important. He is quoted as saying "soaking seeds in warm water for 2 or more hours will make them come up 2 or 3 days sooner than otherwise."

The San Saba News and Star, San Saba, Texas, 2 Mar 1939, contained an article featuring Virgil McPhail, florist inspector, U.S. Department of Agriculture, who "has received recognition and credit from a seed company of Philadelphia for his discovery of a yellow morning glory which is now in course of being developed in a seed laboratory". This plant was found by Mr. McPhail near Corpus Christi.

Other articles mentioned that Virgil was a flower show judge at the Weslaco Garden Club sponsored flower show, an event that, also, included "band concerts, hog calling, milk drinking, fat man's race, and horseshoe pitching contests." He spoke to Garden Clubs concerning rose diseases and their control. He was the chief floral inspector for azalea inspection on the Texas coast. I even learned that he bought a new Rambler in October 1965.

During my search, I kept in touch with Fran by text. I told her that I thought Virgil was the person she was seeking and that one of his daughters might have had the florist shop later on. "Yes, Virgil was the one," she said.

Fran also stated that Virgil "offered my Dad (Elbert Gates McPhail, Jr.) a job and a living space over the shop while he sent Dad to engineering school. But Dad chose love and marriage. It's all good and worked out as it was supposed to."

In the meantime, I contacted another cousin, Dolores McPhail Alter, in 2018. She knows more about Virgil's family than I do. She stated "Virgil and Rosa McPhail owned McPhail Florist located near Zucker Park on Barton Springs Road. When they divorced, Rosa kept the shop. When she died, the shop went to their three daughters (Rosa Nell, Ruth Grace, and Laura Jeanette) who ultimately sold it to a close family friend who kept the McPhail name on the business."

Dolores's father, Billy Byron McPhail, wrote in an undated memoir, "Early in 1940, Miles (this author's own father, Arthur Miles McPhail) and I hitch-hiked to Austin, Texas to visit with relatives and to "scope out" the University of Texas for a possible enrollment there. ... With assurance of a place to stay and a job from Uncle Virgil, our Daddie's brother, who was a Florist in Austin," it seems that Virgil was interested in helping his extended family.

During my search, I realized that two of my grandfather's brothers had owned florist shops in Austin. Frances Marion "Frank" McPhail, Jr. opened the Barton Springs Floral company on Barton Springs Road 29 Dec 1933. He had five acres planted with spring flowers including one thousand Easter lilies, snap dragons, sweet peas, and roses. He recommended that Radiant Talisman and President Hoover roses be planted. (Frank McPhail is the father of Truman McPhail, who is mentioned at the beginning of this article.)

Virgil McPhail's World War I Draft Registration card (1917-1918) states that Virgil was a minister and was employed by the Stove Foundry Mission near Fort Worth, Texas. He was married with a wife and child. His World War II Draft Registration card (1942) stated that he is employed at the Scottish Rite Dormitory, Austin, Texas.

Virgil died in 1965. His obituary stated that "he had been a florist for over 40 years and at the time of his death owned the Avenue Florist at 19th and Interregional." Dolores drove past McPhail's Florist in Austin in March 2018 and was disappointed that the shop had closed and was sad looking.

And now the end of the story.

Who am I trying to kid? Is there ever a real end of the story in genealogy?

I sent a picture of the Yellow Morning Glory article to Fran, who replied, "Let's grow yellow morning glories."

"Oh, we should!" I agreed.

I repeat: I LOVE OLD NEWSPAPERS!

Do YOU Have an Interesting Research Story?

Our readers will enjoy reading about it and may be inspired to try your technique on their own ancestors.

We are always looking for stories from our members and readers. You can bring your story to the Genealogy Library any Tuesday or Thursday. Or e-mail to ccgs@csbi.org. Or just put it in the mail.

In the Library

We occasionally drive through the intersection of Acres Street and the railroad, just to observe progress of the new Norman Central Library building which is rising across Acres Street from Andrews Park.

Ten years after the Cleveland County Genealogical Society was organized in 1980, our members believed that Norman needed a genealogy library collection featuring primarily Cleveland County, its people and its history. If the public sector could not provide it, we would at least begin collecting materials and offering them to all researchers. The eventual goal was to convince the people of Norman that our genealogy and our history are cultural treasures that require public support.

Every time we drive by the new Norman Central Library's construction site, we realize that we are one day closer to achieving the long-time CCGS goal of donating our now extensive genealogy book and archival collections to the local library.

Back at the CCGS Genealogy Library, just inside the south entrance of the Community Services Building on East Main Street, we observe progress of a different sort.

During the past two years, Kathryn Ramsay, genealogy librarian for the Pioneer Library System, has been working to prepare our genealogy materials for the move. When this part of her job is complete, all materials to be moved to Norman Central Library will have been cataloged and marked according to PLS standards.

Kathryn has worked our books through the Dewey Decimal numbering system, beginning with the 000 number items, and steadily moving through the collection. Now she is working in the 976.6 Dewey numbers, which include Oklahoma and Cleveland County items. These items may be temporarily unavailable to researchers, but will be returned to CCGS shelves and will remain until the moving date arrives.

That will be sometime in 2019.

Since You Asked ...

BY JO MUSTOE

Q: I've seen reference to the Vertical Files in the Cleveland County Genealogical Society Library. Can visitors browse these materials? What kind of information can be found there?

A: Thanks for asking. Yes, you can browse in the Vertical Files. The contents represent much work by volunteers over many years.

Basically, the vertical files are divided into three categories: surname, locality, and subject, with each category limited to Cleveland County occurrences.

The surname files contain research on Cleveland County families. Since there is no point to researching a family when it has already been done, you are welcome to browse these files for your family names and to make copies if you wish.

The locality files are restricted to places in Cleveland County. These will include Cleveland County towns and places of interest in Cleveland County, such as the old rural schools. Most of these files include items of interest in Norman such as a list of postmasters, the Legacy Trail, the train depot, the 1893 tornado, and Sooner City on the O.U. campus after World War II. You also may find files related to the towns and even some of the rural communities in Cleveland County in the vertical files.

The remaining vertical files are the subject files. These include any materials related to genealogy that do not fit in the other categories. The subject files usually have some relationship to Cleveland County. You may find material on Lineage Societies, helpful tips on research problems such as finding female lines, and handout materials from past Summer Seminars.

We invite you to come by the CCGS Library and browse the Vertical Files. These days, our library is open two days a week, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. And, of course, if you have a question, call 701-2100 during library hours.

CCGS News

Annual Business Meeting

The 2018 CCGS Annual Business Meeting is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 19, 2018 at the CCGS Library, 1119 E. Main Street, Norman, just inside the South Entrance to the Community Services Building.

The annual business meeting is the most significant Society meeting of each year, as CCGS members gather to review the previous year's accomplishments and to make plans for the future. It is important that our members participate. You have the opportunity to set the direction the Society takes in the future.

The agenda for the annual meeting includes the presentation of a proposed budget for FY 2018/2019, annual reports from officers and committee chairs, and election and installation of next year's Board of Directors.

There is also a social aspect to this meeting, as we bring food to share and get acquainted. We hope to see you there.

Honor Your Cleveland County O.T. Pioneer

You can honor your pioneer ancestors, who settled in Cleveland County after the 1889 Run and before statehood, by nominating them to the CCGS Registry of Pioneers of Cleveland County, O.T.

Applications for recognition of Pioneers of Cleveland County, Oklahoma Territory that are received in the CCGS Library on or before August 16, 2018 will be honored at our October, 2018 meeting.

You can pick up the application and explanatory materials at the CCGS Library. Applicants are required to provide documents to prove major events in the pioneer's life. Photographs and stories about the pioneer and his family are welcomed. All the materials submitted in the application will become property of the Cleveland County Genealogical Society. These materials will be available in perpetuity to future researchers, held in the files of Pioneers of Cleveland County, Oklahoma Territory.

Materials and files in the CCGS Library & Archives will provide a major resource for documentation. Library volunteers can help you find relevant materials, suggest possible proofs, and answer questions about the application.

The CCGS Library is open from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Wise Words Discovered while Downsizing

Your editor, who is taking some time off to downsize, discovered this little clipping from the Maryland Genealogical Society, which begins: "Rumor has it that the lodge is being run by a "clique." Careful investigation will show that this is TRUE."

Furthermore, you will find that the clique is composed of faithful members, who are present at the meetings, who do all the work, who give willingly of their time, energies and efforts, and who sincerely believe that the more one puts into an organization, the more will be obtained from it.

It is, therefore, suggested YOU join the clique.

It is not a difficult matter to do. Attend, accept responsibilities in the work, never refuse a place of service. Before you realize it, you will be a member of the clique—and you will be surprised to learn how anxious they are to have you.

CCGS leaders are more than anxious; they are distressed and worried, because they need more volunteers to help accomplish the work facing us in the next year.

Sometime in 2019, the new Norman Central Library will be completed, and the CCGS genealogy and local history collections will be accepted into the public library's collection. This has been the long-term goal of the Society for over twenty years.

In the meantime, today we have only three active library volunteers serving the public on the two afternoons the library is currently open. This is insufficient. Any day we cannot staff at least two volunteers, it will be necessary to close the genealogy library without notice. We cannot allow this to happen. Please offer your help.

We have several ongoing projects that need to be completed prior to the move, and not enough people to accomplish the work. Currently we are seeking an accurate typist to enter data into a database on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons.

Will you volunteer to help in the library, just for the next twelve to eighteen months? Volunteer for two hours or four hours, once or twice a month, on a Tuesday or Thursday afternoon. Call the CCGS Library at 701-2100.

Family History Writers Group

The CCGS Writers Group meets at 10:00 a.m. on the second Wednesday every month in the CCGS Library.

Write a story (any family-history oriented topic). Meet with the Writers Group and share your story with them. Then share your story with one or more family members. Maybe you will get a reaction like this one:

*Dear Mom,
If it hadn't been for you writing down some stories of your life, I would never have known that your birthday is the same as Anne Frank's! How would I have ever thought to ask, "Do you share a birthday with anyone special (other than your wonderful self)?"
This is a token of thanks for sharing that story with Diane and me. And it's also to ask you: please keep on writing! I'm sure there are many other questions that I won't think to ask, but I'd sure love to read whatever you'd like to share.
Love and Happy Birthday!*

Writing your life stories is easier than you think. Join the Writers Group and be inspired!

CCGS Meetings this Spring

At the March CCGS meeting, Brad Koplowitz, outlined preservation measures to insure long-term preservation of historical items. He also demonstrated several kinds of repairs for books and documents.

In April, CCGS hosted several lineage societies, who provided information about their organization and requirements for membership. Attendees had the opportunity to visit with representatives of the organizations in which they were interested.

The May CCGS meeting featured James E. Dupree, a doctoral candidate in O.U.'s history department, who spoke about the history of immigration. In the early years, there were no restrictions on immigration; everyone was welcomed. In the 1880s, exclusion laws targeted Chinese labor. The Customs Service was charged with enforcing immigration law prior to 1894. Dupree focused on the corruption in immigration enforcement during the Chinese exclusion era.

Ed. P. Ingle Succeeds E.D. McLaughlin

Acting upon the resignation of Mr. E.D. McLaughlin as chief clerk of the selective draft board of Cleveland County, the board at its meeting on Friday night unanimously tendered the position to Mr. Ed. P. Ingle, and he has accepted, and is being instructed as to the duties of the office by Mr. McLaughlin, who will remain with the board for a month or so until the new man gets thoroughly posted. The board now consists of Messrs. H.O. Miller, T.E. Smith and Dr. C.S. Bobo as members and Mr. Ingles as clerk. ... It was, too, a clear case of the position seeking the man, for Mr. Ingle had no idea he was being considered for the position until it was tendered him. ...

The Transcript-Enterprise, for whom Mr. Ingle has been bookkeeper and collector, regrets to lose his services, but earnestly congratulates him. ...

Twelve More Men Go from Cleveland County to Training Camp

Twelve more of the Cleveland county men eligible to the draft left this Saturday morning for Camp Bowie at Fort Worth. A large crowd was present at the 9:50 train to bid them farewell and shower them with gifts. There were ten in the bunch that left here, but two others are credited to Cleveland county; the two named last in the following list, who left from the cities named.

Those who went were:

Henry C. Poters, Norman
Richard B. Knight, Norman
William H. Breumer, Norman, R. 4
Ernest R. Duncan, Lexington
Milton H. Milam, Lexington
Lee Adam Bible, Noble, R. 1
Lewis R. Morris, Oklahoma City
Richard Glenn Kitchen
Luther Roy Trout, Norman
Amos R. Dressen, Moore
Hubert N. Uri, Okmulgee
Otis M. Davis, Dallas

Eclipse of the Sun Saturday, June 8

An eclipse of the sun will occur on Saturday, June 8, 1918, visible almost totally in Norman and vicinity. An astronomer has figured it out for this latitude and longitude and says it will begin at 5:26 p.m. in Norman, be at its greatest scope at 6:22, and will have disappeared at 7:33. ... The degree totality in this latitude will be 99 percent. ... Prof Henry Meier, father-in-law of Roy V. Lewis, is the scientist who has figured out how and when it will come to Norman.

The McDougall Kitchen Cabinet

Have you noticed the display in the window of Meyer & Meyer furniture store, explaining the McDougal Kitchen Cabinet? ... The McDougall is said to be the first kitchen cabinet ever put upon the market and it has been improved from time to time until it ranks with the best. Take a look at the Meyer & Meyer show window, read the advertisements in this issue of the Transcript and call at the store and get prices and terms. The ladies are especially invited to call, for they will be convinced that their kitchen needs just such a piece of furniture

No Contract Let for School Building

The Board of Education met last night to consider bids for the erection of the Westside school building, but no contract was let, owing to the fact that only one bid was received and that was at a figure the Board could not meet. They only have something like $37,000 to spend, and the bid, made by J.J. Rooney, was $46,000. Changes in the plans and specifications will probably be made which will bring the cost within the $37,000, and the contract let to the Rooney Company.

Red Cross Auction

Auctioneer Jim Rodgers inveigled the blackface trio into the Red Cross service this afternoon and as the Transcript goes to press a big crowd is gathering at the bank corner to attend the Red Cross auction. There will be many things sold, and a very appreciable and appreciated amount is certain to be realized for the great cause. The Noble bale of cotton, the S.K. McCall suit of clothes, the children's blanket and many other articles have been donated for the sale.

Society

Mesdames Ben Lindsey, Swank and John McCall entertained the members of the Linger Longer Club and their husbands Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. B. Lindsey. The time was spent at auction bridge. The tally cards were sold to the Red Cross. At the close of the evening light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Dudley entertained Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Lindsey who will leave June 1st for their new home in Shamrock, Okla.

Miss Emily Miller, who has been teaching in the Hugo high school for the past year, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. J.F. Paxton delightfully entertained the Knitting Club Wednesday afternoon. Time was spent in knitting and making tape for Red Cross garments. At the close of the afternoon an ice course was served to the following: Mesdames W.M. Newell, D.W. Griffin, E.K. Himes, Ray Fischer, Jackson, Darrow, Frank Ephriam and H.P. Dowdy, of Oklahoma City, and Miss Bernetta Cole of Pargould, Ark. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. D.W. Griffin.

Mrs. Charlie Adair, deputy court clerk, has been absent from her office for the past two days, being in Oklahoma City where Mr. Adair is confined in a hospital. His friends trust he may soon recover. It is said Charlie is suffering from appendicitis.

Mrs. Agnes Hargraves, who has been visiting Mrs. John Edwards and family, has returned to her home in Fort Collins, Colorado. Mrs. Hargraves was formerly Miss Agnes Edwards, and takes with her the good wishes of her many Norman friends.

Mrs. Frank Ball has returned from a two-week's visit with relatives in Texas.

Fine Red Cross Meeting at Franklin

Judge and Mrs. J.M. Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Clark, Geo. Allen and Dortis Stogner attended a big Red Cross meeting and pie supper at Franklin last night. They report the house full to repletion, many hanging to the windows on the outside. Judge Graham made a stirring Red Cross talk and Geo. Allen sold the pies, the balance whooping things up generally. Judge Gresham says he never realized the enthusiasm that is swamping the country until he began attending these meetings.

Local and Personal

Claude Cox, formerly of Norman, is now connected with the Wells-Fargo express company in Oklahoma City.

This warm, fly-attractive weather has caused the appearance of screens on all the doors of the local eating houses.

District Manager E.A. Foster, of the Carey, Lombard Co., left yesterday afternoon for different points in Texas, looking after the yards in that state.

Women's Meeting: The ladies are requested to remember the meeting of the Women's Council of Defense which is to be held at the Baptist church at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

Sergeant Wesley Sherman is here from Camp Doniphan, spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.G. Sherman.

Attorney John Luttrell is looking after legal business in Purcell today. He has several important cases in county court there.

T.S. Slack has resigned as local agent for the Interurban Company, to take effect the first of the month. C.G. Littee, who has been on the Norman line for several months, has been named his successor. Mr. Slack has joined the "Back to the Farm" army.

W.N. Rucker is in receipt of a letter from his brother, Lieut. W.L. Rucker, stationed at Camp Funston ... he has been promoted to First Lieutenant and given the responsible position of chief executive officer of the Quartermaster's Dept. Rucker was detailed during the recent Liberty Loan drive to make speeches in Missouri and Kansas ...
