President's Message

BY JEAN MCCRACKEN

Your 2020 membership dues expire December 31, 2020 and will be delinquent on March 31, 2021. Please renew now and support CCGS in our new effort to present Cleveland County's history in digital form. Read on!

Soon we will say Goodbye to the year 2020 and Hello to 2021!

Today, to say the least, the year 2020 has been a challenge for our entire world. Now, with the recent development of several new vaccines, there is a definite possibility that year 2021 will bring relief to the Coronavirus Pandemic which has engulfed Planet Earth. Then we can get back to what we once considered a normal life.

At the outbreak of the virus this past winter, we were totally unaware how long we would be dealing with it. The middle of March, the Board of Directors closed our office until further notice. At the time, we had just started making the necessary arrangements to begin working on digitizing the numerous indexes to Cleveland County records, which have been produced by our membership during the past forty years. Our object is to digitize these indexes and place them on the internet.

When conditions allow, we will begin work and will welcome all members who would like to be involved in this project. Please do consider this opportunity.

Since the beginning of the Pandemic, we have had a few Board meetings, but the Board has mainly relied on e-mail or telephone contact. Monthly Society meetings were discontinued, as well as the monthly meeting of our Family History Writers Group. For the past several months, however, the Writers Group has been meeting on Zoom, courtesy of one of the members. It was suggested that the Board consider using this service to enable us to hold video meetings of the Board, the Society, and Writers Group, as well as Society committees and Workshops.

If you have worked with video conferencing and would be willing to help us get started, your assistance would be much appreciated. You may leave a message on the CCGS answering machine at 701-2100.

Members will be informed as soon as we can develop a schedule of Society-related meetings. Please inform us, if there is a topic you can present, or suggest someone who might be able to speak to our group.

We request feedback from all our members—please share your good ideas with us.

Here's wishing everyone a BETTER New Year in 2021!

World Pandemic of the 21st Century

By Tricia Rodgers Carleton

In March of this year, a pandemic hit our world, called Covid-19, a Corona Virus. Of course, now it seems it probably began to some extent in the previous fall. But we weren't aware of it, due to the government trying to keep it under wraps. As of today, November 11, 2020, about noon, there have been, in the United States,

52,152,704 Cases Confirmed,
5,384 Critical Patients in Hospitals,
1,285,052 Deceased
14,612,712 Active Cases,
36,071,759 Recovered Cases
179 Vaccines in Development.

There are many different theories on how the pandemic started. We only know for sure it was spread to the public, beginning in Wuhan Province, China. There is some evidence/theory that says it came from a research facility there studying it, and someone took it out with them, whether it was an accident or on purpose. It is said it was originally developed in a research lab in the U.S. and transported to China by way of Canada.

No matter how it started or where it came from, it has been deadly. It seems to attack those with weakened immune systems first and does the most damage there. That is why it is quite important to eat the right foods, take the best supplements possible and keep your immune system supported well so that you may remain healthy.

Many also feel you need to wear a mask to keep your exposure to the virus at a minimum and therefore, your symptoms mild, if you should get it. But others also believe masks will protect others from spreading the disease, when they might be unaware that they are a carrier of the virus.

Many believe that because the elderly have been eating unhealthy food (gluten, oils, nitrates, etc.) for much longer, that there is already more damage done to their organs and immune systems, which you may not be able to see. and that is the reason they are more at risk to be infected and to die from the virus. Statistics seem to support this idea. But the disease has hit people of all ages. Some have had more severe symptoms than others.

There have been many outbreaks of the disease after large gatherings, such as campaign rallies, concerts, and holiday celebrations. Many people are tired of staying home and not doing what they want to do in public, so they go out, with or without a mask, and with a 'devil-may-care' attitude. Some simply believe it won't happen to them.

While I think I have a great advantage, having changed my lifestyle drastically in the last seven years to be more healthy, with the best supplements available, I certainly do not think I am immune to all things. I am being as safe as I possibly can, limiting my interaction with large groups and other people in general, and shopping at times when there will be fewer people out in the stores.

My oldest daughter, Nikki, shopped for me for a very long time, as I was taking care of her youngest son when they closed the schools and went to online schooling. They closed school a day early for Spring Break to clean the school, but didn't open up again until this fall, and that was different in each school system. My grandson is with me today as it is Veteran's Day and a holiday. But it is different, as this is in the middle of the week. Usually, they would put the holiday at the beginning or ending of the week to give families a three-day weekend. Not this year!

There are so many things that have not taken place this year—family reunions, July 4th celebrations, graduations, sports events with spectators. If these events are taking place now, they have been changed drastically to keep personal contact to a minimum. There have been many milestones marked with a drive-by event. People drive-by (parade-style) to wish someone a happy birthday or congratulate them on a special occasion.

We used to try to give people their personal space or bubble. Now, we social distance to stay safe. Many places do not allow gatherings above a certain number, usually ten. If you go out to eat, you may have empty tables between you and the next occupied table. At the gym, we are now asked to wear masks and stay ten feet apart, instead of the previous six feet. New phrases have turned up such as social distancing, contactless shopping, contactless pickup/delivery, and many others, depending on your spheres of contacts.

Many of us have learned how to Zoom to be able to meet with others, whether for business, pleasure, organization meetings or online schooling. Who ever thought that would happen?

Now, since this has been going on for eight months with no visible end, we're all wondering how much longer it will continue. The cases seem to be rising instead of declining, and with the holidays and colder weather approaching, it is likely to become worse. The man who has been in charge of this situation, Dr. Fauci, said yesterday that it could last into the Spring of 2021.

Instead of saying farewell to one another in the age-old way, we now say, "Stay safe!" We also elbow or fist bump one another, if we dare to touch someone else. Many items have been in shortage during all of this, especially sanitizing items. Some of the ingredients had a hold put on them by the CDC. I know, the company I work for sold out of their hand sanitizer in a very short time; they were unable to get any more due to these restrictions. There was a run on toilet paper, for whatever reason. Now, we're having trouble getting the containers to put our products into, to be able to distribute them to our clients. It's amazing the things we take for granted until we don't have them any longer.

So, keep your loved ones close, healthy—and everyone, stay safe!

CCGS News

Pandemic Time

By the time you receive this issue of the CCGS Newsletter, we will be entering our tenth month of a world-wide pandemic.

Our worlds have changed, in different ways, for many people. Some of us are adjusting; others just wish Covid 19 would go away.

How are we filling our time? Do you have fulfilling activities that keep you busy? Do you have responsibility for nearby relatives? Do you interact with your neighbors? Are you catching up with long-neglected projects? Are you reaching out? Or are you totally bored? To all our friends out there, this is a good time to develop a project or learn a new skill. Keep your mind and your body active.

The CCGS Family History Writers Group has done just that. They skipped one meeting in the spring, then moved to offering a virtual meeting via the Zoom app. We have had three to five writers in attendance every month since, which is not far from our previous attendance, when we could also look forward to a meal together afterward.

There is a slight learning curve the first time you attend a Zoom meeting. The biggest problem is usually installing the Zoom app.

Seniors, if you need help getting the Zoom app set up, just make a date with one of your grandchildren. These scholars are working on similar programs at school. Zoom will be small stuff for them.

Once Zoom is installed, contact the Writers Group (laging@att.net) to request getting your name on the notification list.

The CCGS Family History Writers Group meets in a virtual meeting at 10:00 a.m. on the second Wednesday every month. Sign onto the Zoom app just before that time.

Let's Have a Meeting!

If the CCGS Family History Writers Group can hold a virtual meeting, the Society should also be able to move to virtual meetings, via the Zoom app.

The critical problem is learning how to acquire the Zoom app, and how to sign into a virtual meeting. You must have a computer that has a microphone, a speaker or headphones, and access to the internet. A camera is optional, but recommended. Some people may be able to access the internet on their smart phone. We can provide help, if you don't have grandchildren who would love to teach Granny or Gramps something that will expand their elders' world.

Q. What is a virtual meeting?

A. Virtual meetings are not held face to face. Participants sign into an App that provides support for the meeting. Each attendee signs in from their own home on their personal computer. They may choose that their computer camera shows their image during the meeting. They may be able to participate in discussion during the meeting, but are not required to do so.

Q. What groups might create a virtual meeting?

A. #1 Genealogical Society meetings can easily be planned. Our Program chair would contact a speaker, who would speak on a topic of interest to our group. The speaker would present the program from his/her own home; each listener would also be seeing and hearing it in their own home. Participants on all sides would not have to worry about having to go out.

A #2 Committee meetings, regardless of the topic, will be adaptable to virtual meetings. As long as each committee member has the capability of hearing and discussing proposals, it will be possible to make long-term, as well as short-term plans for any project. It works just as well for small committees as for larger groups.

A #3 Workshops—from planning to presentation—can be a winner for us, especially until the day the coronavirus is no longer a threat to the world’s population. We will most likely need to develop some new presentation skills, as well as attract new members who are willing and able to tackle some of the projects listed above.

Q #4 How can our members help?

A. Become involved in the Society’s work.

1. Attend meetings
2. Visit the CCGS office when it opens
3. Meet our volunteers
4. Learn about the work currently in the spotlight
5. Volunteer for jobs that are publicized.
- 6 Suggest new projects
7. Consider serving on a committee or on the Board of Directors
8. Volunteer for jobs that are publicized

Looking Ahead to CCGS Future

As the workday ended on July 31, 2020, a small group of CCGS officers gathered in what had been our Genealogy Library to mark the end of our mandate to provide library services to genealogists.

The brand-new Norman Public Library Central opened with great fanfare the weekend of November 6-7, 2020.

Then came the world-wide pandemic: Covid 19.

The World we live in has changed.

CCGS was unpacking, moving items from boxes to files, already looking at what has changed for the Society. We know we need to revisit the Mission Statement. We also need to review the ByLaws.

Our officers began to realize that, as individuals, we are in one of the most-risky groups—the elderly—many of us with pre-existing conditions. After we determined that the average age of our Board Members is around 85 years, it was decided that we close the CCGS Office until the situation improves.

We are still attempting to determine our function nowadays. We seem to be spinning our wheels. But we need to develop a plan.

We could take a look at those who were charter members of this organization forty years ago. They, too, faced an empty slate. What did they do?

There were many county records in the Cleveland County Courthouse—marriages, divorces, probates, taxes, and many others—but no indexes anywhere, available to researchers. CCGS Charter members selected the obvious. They began indexing the early marriages of Cleveland County. It took maybe as much as five years to get the first two volumes published.

Over the years since, CCGS members have indexed and published many years’ worth of public records, including marriages, divorces, probate, cemetery records, and smaller groups also. CCGS currently has Master Copies of each set of records.

Several years ago CCGS purchased a new copy machine, which is capable of producing searchable databases. As we unpacked after the move, we took the time to test this capability. We worked with 37 volumes of the cemetery records, running them through the copy machine just to demonstrate that it would work. These volumes are ready to be placed online when we open our office again.

Our future work is cut out for us. We need to inventory each group of publications (marriages, probates, etc.). We need to determine if each book can stand alone, or whether we need to add anything. We need to recruit volunteers to manage creation of the searchable file, and to get each publication online.

This is a big job. It will not be done in a day, or a month, or perhaps not even a year.

When this job is finished, we will need to look again for what needs to be done.

Are our members ready to assist in this venture?

It is a large job, but well worthy of the time and effort we provide. We are “paying it forward” to future researchers.

Tomorrow’s genealogists will bless your efforts.

Aged Woman Frowns Upon Anklets

During Winter

By Ida C. Sloan
Transcript Staff Writer

The 1940 moderns who defy the weather and wear anklets when everything indicates that long hose and possibly even “longies” would be much better apparel Saturday had a bit of advice from a 98-year-old who believes she is the county’s oldest resident.

“These young girls who run around with bare legs in the cold of winter aren’t going to live to be 50 years old,” the elderly woman said.

Unusually spry for her age, Mrs. Wright claims that work is a good solution to most of life’s problems.

Just 14 years ago when she was 84 years old Mrs. Wright was picking cotton, and on one day picked as much as 200 pounds.

Her 73-year-old daughter, Mrs. Anna Dahlke ... expressed the belief that Mrs. Wright had been privileged to remain on this earth because of the good she has done for folks.

“I’ve seen her go out on the coldest night with food in her pockets to help neighbors,” Mrs. Dahlke said. “I feel sure the Lord has let her remain here because she has done so much good.”

In good health,...Mrs. Wright is able to carry on all of her household duties, and only last week completed the piecing of a patchwork quilt. ...

Mrs. Wright has been a resident of Cleveland county and Norman since 1890. She owns her home where she lives alone most of the time, believing that you can own a home as cheaply as you can rent, and that it is one sure way of not having a landlord telling you to move out because the house has been sold.

The Wrights came to Oklahoma from California by train in 1890. They lived in a tent at first, although Mr. Wright wanted to build a dugout like many of the other pioneers had.

Mrs. Wright said she refused to live in a “frog den,” believing that when you go under the ground, you should go but once, and then for always. When the dugout her family attempted to build caved in before it was finished, Mrs. Wright said she was most relieved.

In addition to Mrs. Dahlke, Mrs. Wright has one living son, John D. Wright, Cheyenne, Wyo. Two children and her husband are dead.

Norman Will Lose Many Dollars From Across River, Said

That Norman will lose many dollars in trade as a result of the Canadian river bridge going on a toll basis, is the substance of the article in the Blanchard News last week. It says: "The bridge over the Canadian river between Blanchard and Norman was converted into a toll bridge yesterday, according to reports received here from parties crossing.

This has been done in order to pay a debt of $5,100.00, which was made during the summer for rebuilding it after it had been washed out.

"An attempt was made by the parties owning the bridge to raise the money from the towns served by the bridge along the Ozark trail." ...

[Chickasha, Blanchard, and Shawnee were assessed a collective $3150 but failed to raise it. Officials believe it will affect Norman more than any other town. ... Norman has enjoyed a very liberal trade from this side of the river, especially from the Newcastle country, Goldsby country, and Blanchard shoppers were prone to go there ... many pleasure trips were made to the University City by Blanchardites.

DID YOU KNOW?

That the University of Oklahoma lacks only 600 students of having as many as the six state normal schools, Agricultural and Mechanical college and the Oklahoma College for Women combined? ...

THANK YOU!

Editor, the Transcript

Dear Sir: I wish to express my approval of your new plan of three times a week for your paper. You last issue was certainly more than twice as interesting as the daily usually is.

I particularly approved your article about the east end of the county and its roads. As I am a mail carrier, I, of course, have to use roads in whatever condition I find them, which is very bad at present.

The first mile east of Denver especially needs lots of work done and has received practically none for several years.

Sincerely yours for good roads and other improvements for Cleveland County.

David V. Phillips

Mrs. M.C. Hefley

In the death of Mrs. M.C. Hefley, wife of J.L. Hefley, at her home in the "big pasture" sixteen mile west of Lawton, one more of Norman's earliest pioneers is called home to her reward.

On the first day of the opening of this country to settlement, Mrs. Hefley was on the ground, extending greeting and hospitality to the hungry and thirsty and weary land and lot seekers. For years her home was a haven for food and shelter for men and their families until they could get homes built, as they came into this new country, and fourteen years afterward, together with her husband, she mounted a schooner wagon with the chickens and family cow tied on behind, wending their way across the prairies to start in the erection of a new home on a farm secured in the opening of the "big pasture." In a few years the new home became one of the most noted farms in the pasture. ...

From North Carolina to Illinois, married and moved to Sumner county, Kansas, from Kansas to Oklahoma. A family of four sons and four daughters. A useful life lived, a ripe old age attained, and one who will be missed, but made the world better for her life and ever brightened the corner where she lived. Loved her home and friends in the big pasture, but never forgot Norman and hoped some day to make this city her home again ...

Mrs. Northcutt Dies

Mrs. Murray Northcutt, sister of Mesdames Chas. DeVorss and John Kemp, died at Estancia, New Mexico, Monday morning and was buried yesterday in Lexington. Mr. and Mrs. Northcutt were former residents of Lexington but went to New Mexico about four years ago in the hopes of benefiting her health.

Jimmy Holds Good Sale Across River

"A very good sale" was held at the farm of Mrs. F.J. Stephenson, across the river on the Blanchard road Wednesday afternoon, according to Jimmy D. Rodgers, popular auctioneer.

Implements and farm machinery were the principal things sold, since Mrs. Stephenson will not run the farm any longer by herself. Her husband died last December and she tried continuing the farm management, but has rented it this year.

J.Z. Tally, son-in-law of Mrs. Stephenson, is understood to have rented the place for the coming year.

You, too, can find newspaper information about Oklahoma settlers. Just search for "Gateway to Oklahoma History"

Hold Singing at Southgale Sunday Nights

Southgale and Hico—Mrs. G.W. Reed

Singing every Sunday night. Come out and take a part.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. King, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartsook were business visitors to Shawnee Tuesday.

Mrs. Church is reported on the sick list.

Miss Ruby Haygood visited with Mrs. G.W. Reed Monday.

Mrs. Fred Church and little Xyla Burges called on Mrs. Reed Monday afternoon.

There will be a pie supper at the schoolhouse Thursday night.

School began Monday, December 13, with Mr. Valentine as teacher.

There isn't much news going on in this community; everybody, even the cook, is busy picking cotton.

Bridge to be Paid for in about 90 Days

That the toll from travel over the Canadian river bridge southwest of Norman would pay out the indebtedness in about three months, barring any further washouts or rises, was the statement before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday of D.L. Larsh, president of the bridge company. ...

Although Mr. Larsh would not give out definite figures, he told that the income was around $50 a day, fully 80 percent of which was received from through tourist traffic, who, he said, did not object at all to the rate. Only a few local complaints have been made and they have been mostly straightened out since the charge was begun last Thursday.

Chase Leaves

With the withdrawal of K.M. Chase, circulation manager of the Transcript, from the University, Harold Melknap again is in charge of the carrier service. He has been handling the mail circulation and will now act in both positions.

NOBLE

Wilma Frances Sandel,
Correspondent

Phone 63, Noble, Okla.

The M.E. presiding elder, Reverend McClure, was in Noble last Sunday, December 4, and held the night services, after which he conducted the quarterly conference.

The Noble high school basketball team went to Wayne Friday where the score was 17 to 9 in favor of Noble.

Mrs. Nora Douglas returned to her home in Illinois Monday, after visiting here several days with her brother, Mr. Clarence Petty and family.

Mrs. Allen Fritzlen and family of Alamo district spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Emma Riggs and family.

Mrs. Riggs, who has been sick the past few weeks, is on the road to recovery.

J.P. Hulseley and family were shopping in Oklahoma City last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cralle and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds and Mrs. C.F. Teel of Norman visited relatives in Noble last Sunday.

Miss Mary Bell and Miss Juanita Reeves and Mrs. Cora Filson were in Norman last Friday.

Mrs. J.H. Stufflebean and daughters, Mary and Frances, Eula Lee and Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. Rae Stufflebean and Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Giles went shopping in Norman last Friday.

Miss Freida Sandel of Norman is in Noble visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P.O. Sandel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vaughn, former residents of Noble, are here visiting friends.

Mrs. Edna Witt returned to her home in Ft. Worth after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Joe Scott and family.

Boys and Girls Are Arrested for Pitch Game in Church

Reports coming to Norman from Purcell are that eleven girls and nine boys were arrested at Washington Tuesday for disturbing a place of public worship there Monday night.

It is said that they were engaged in card playing in the building where a Holiness meeting was in progress. The reports indicate that they had been giving trouble several nights before and that Monday night when the house became crowded, they moved to near the back end, sat down on the floor and started a "pitch" game.

They are said to have been taken to Purcell after their arrest.

Church News: Baptists Attention

On Friday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock every man that possibly can, please report at the new church to help put in the pews and straighten up so that we can have service in the new building next Sunday. Come in ...working clothes. ... Our girls and women [can] come and help dust, too.
